What's missing?

are fighting is playing is playing are bubbling are arguing

It's the same every day.

When Mr Murphy comes home, his mother the guitar.

and his wife the piano.

His two younger children

and his two older children about the television.

And the pots and pans..... on the cooker.

What's missing?

are dancing is talking are running are running are bubbling

He comes home from work the next day and is looking forward to reading his book at last.

But when he opens the door

the geese after the chickens

and his two younger children after the geese.

His two older children to some music.

His wifeon the phone.

His mother at everyone to be quiet.

And the pots and pans on the cooker.

About you – talk to your classmates and your teacher. At home, talk to your mum and dad:

Is your house noisy or quiet when you come home?

Do you ever argue about the television?

Would you like to have chicken and geese in the house?

Do you know a clever person who can help you?
